MANIFESTO

Chartered Accountants and lawyers for a united world

Chartered Accountants and Lawyers for a more united world.

There is one thing that unites all people of the world: work.

Wherever they are, from London to New York, from Rio de Janeiro to Johannesburg, from Moscow to Beijing, from Sydney to Rome, every day people with their energy give life to a world community, the one of work. A community beyond the religions, territories or cultural differences.

In the community of work is the different culture that creates harmony such as music does.

Around the world, this communities work thanks to two categories that are guarantors of respect for the rules of good work, lined up in defense of the rights on the one hand and the creation of value on the other. These are the categories of lawyers and accountants. Two distinct souls of service to the company and to work together every day to ensure the compliance of companies with the law, govern the regular payment of taxes, provide the entrepreneur oversight of legal risks, fiscal and labor.

In this world joined by the work, but divided by cultural, linguistic distances and regulations, technology can make a difference. Once again, the technology can change the world. Allow professionals worldwide, accountants and lawyers, to join in a global cooperation, where competition between consulting signatures is not about competition but running together. Together for a more united world. In the name of the work and compliance with international good practice.

Prime Advisory Network, it is not a common network, but a technology platform for international cooperation in studios around the world. The result of the integration of communication technology, integrated management of payments, international secretarial and back office.
